

JOSH recently graduated from high school and got a job and is making plans for a future career. These rites of passage do not always happen for teens who have experienced foster care, but thanks to Steve, a longtime CASA Advocate, one young man accomplished this goal and is on the road to a bright future. From the beginning, Steve's commitment to this young man was amazing. As Josh prepared for his senior year, Steve researched colleges and trade schools, determining which would provide the best opportunities, and took Josh to visit them. Steve also helped Josh apply for his state benefits, develop a budget, and prepare for adulting. This young man's future is bright, thanks to help from his CASA, Steve.
